Logging In

The IRB system is secure, which means only authorized individuals have access to it. When you log in to the system, you get a personalized view of the information and possible actions pertinent to you.

To log in:

1. If you do not see the form shown to the right, click the Login link located at the top right corner of your screen.
2. Type your UGA MyID and password into the user name and password boxes.

Tips: Press the Tab key after typing your UGA MyID into the user name box to move to the Password box.
3. Click Login (or press Enter).

Creating a New Study

You can prepare a new study for IRB review by entering information into a series of online forms. The number of forms included may change based on the answers you provide. The forms tell you where to attach files to provide supporting information.

The simplest approach is to follow the forms in order, answering the questions and clicking Continue to save your information and move to the next form. When you reach the end of the series of forms, click the Finish button. NOTE: Clicking Finish does not submit the study. Only the PI can submit the study, so if the study is created by a study team member, the PI must be notified that the study is ready for submission. See Submitting the Study for Review on page 6.

Note: A continuing review, modification, or RNI (reportable new information) submission can be handled similarly to a study. For differences, see Submitting Continuing Reviews and New Information on page 11.

Before you begin, gather files and information about your study such as:
- Supporting information files (for a list, see Checklist of Information to Attach on page 12)
- Financial interest status for each of your study team members
- Contact information and IRB oversight information and/or authorization/permission for external sites involved in the study

Tips: If you regularly create studies with a similar set of team members, you can save time by defining the default team members to be added to each study you create. Click on your name to access your user information. Select View: "Research Profile". Create a default study team and “Apply”. See online help for more detailed instructions.

To create a new study for review:

1. From My Inbox, click Create New Study.
Note: If you do not see the Create New Study button, click the My Inbox link (upper right).

2. Fill in the applicable boxes and answer the questions.

Tip: When you create a study, you are assigned to be the primary contact who receives all communications from the IRB on behalf of the study team. (The principal investigator you specified also receives the communications.) You can change the primary contact later as described in Changing the Primary Contact on page 8.

3. Click Continue to move to the next form.

Tip: A red asterisk (*) precedes each question that requires an answer. If you cannot answer a required question at this time, or if you need to stop and continue at a later time, see the tips in the online help. If you do not answer a required question initially, you must return and answer it before you can submit the study for review. You must answer all the questions on the first page and click “Continue” to be able to navigate through the rest of the forms, but if you need to skip any other page where there are required responses, use the Jump To menu near the top center of the page.

4. When you reach the final page, click Finish to exit the study.

You can continue to edit the study until you submit it for review. See Editing a Study on page 5.

Important! The study has not been submitted for review yet. For instructions, see Submitting the Study for Review on page 6.

Editing a Study

You can continue to make changes to a study until you submit it for IRB review. You can also make changes if the IRB requests clarifications (except during committee review) or modifications.

To edit a study:
1. From My Inbox, click the name of the study to open it.
   (Note: If the study does not appear in your inbox, see Accessing a Study on page 9.
2. Click Edit Study on the left.
3. Make changes as appropriate.
4. Exit the study.

Tip: Choose one of these ways to exit:
- Click the Exit link. If prompted to save the study, click Yes.
- Click Continue on each form, and then click the Finish button on the final form.

Checking the Study for Errors

Checking the study for errors and omissions helps you include all the relevant information, which is critical for receiving a timely review of your study.

Using these types of error checking helps you supply all the information the IRB needs:
- Automatic system error checking identifies any omitted answers to required questions on the form when you click Continue. A red asterisk (*) precedes each blank or question that requires an answer. Keep in mind that the system cannot catch every omission while you edit the study if you skip questions that cause more forms to be added to your study.
- Visually inspecting the forms to see what you may have missed, especially:
  - Questions that are relevant to your study but are not required for all studies
  - Documents that should be attached (see Checklist of Information to Attach on page 12)
  To perform a visual inspection, open the study and look through the forms in order. To open the study, see Editing a Study on page 5.
- Using the Hide/Show Errors option to find and correct all errors before submitting the study. The system automatically checks for errors when the PI attempts to submit the study. However, if you are filling out the forms on behalf of the PI, it is best to check the study for errors before the PI attempts to submit it, using the steps below.

To use Hide/Show Errors to find and correct errors:
1. Open the study, as explained in Editing a Study on page 5.
2. From the top navigation area, click Hide/Show Errors.
The Error/Warning Messages pane appears at the bottom of the window, listing all the current errors and where to find them.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Message</th>
<th>Field Name</th>
<th>Jump To</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>This is a required field.</td>
<td>Is Study Under IND</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>This is a required field.</td>
<td>Devices</td>
<td>Devices</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This is a required field.</td>
<td>Device Type</td>
<td>Devices</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3. For one of the errors listed, click the link in the Jump To column to go to the form containing the error.
4. Click Continue to identify the specific questions on the form with errors.
5. Fill in the missing information.
6. Click Refresh in the Error/Warning Messages pane to update the list of errors.
7. Continue correcting errors until no errors are listed.

Submitting the Study for Review

After entering all required information into the forms and attaching files, the principal investigator must submit the study for IRB review.

Tips:

- Make sure you attach all applicable information to the study, as identified in Checklist of Information to Attach on page 12.
- Check for missing information before attempting to submit the study, as described in Checking the Study for Errors on page 5. Any errors or omissions not corrected are shown when attempting to submit the study and must be corrected before you can submit it for review.
- Identify any person or organization outside the IRB who needs to review the study (e.g. Departmental Reviewers). Add them to the list of ancillary reviewers by clicking Manage Ancillary Reviews. For instructions, see the online help.

Important! Only the principal investigator can complete the following steps.

To submit the study for IRB review:
1. Log in to the system.
2. Make sure you are in My Inbox.

   Note: If you do not see My Inbox, click the My Inbox link (top right part of the page).
3. Click the name of the study to open it.

Tip: If the study does not appear in the list, perhaps it was already submitted, or it does not include you as a study team member. To find the study, try clicking IRB in the top left navigation area. If you do not see it in that list, see Accessing a Study on page 9 for more ideas.
4. Click Submit from the My Current Actions list on the left.

!My Current Actions

Tip: If any errors or warnings are shown, click the link in the Jump To column to go to the form containing the problem. For more information, see Checking the Study for Errors on page 5. When all errors are corrected, try submitting the study by clicking Submit again.

5. Click OK to agree to the statement presented on the screen.
6. When prompted, log in again to verify your identity as the study's PI.
7. Click Submit.

What to Expect After Submitting

Submitting information to the IRB initiates a series of activities that may include:

- Review within your department
- Pre-review by one or more IRB staff members to identify any missing materials, provide an initial assessment of review level (e.g. Expedited or Committee Review), and to identify the appropriate individual/s responsible for the review
- Review by the IRB committee or a designated reviewer
- Communication of the IRB decision to the investigator

Any of these may lead to a request for the investigator to take further action, such as providing clarifications or modifying the study. Whenever you need to act, you receive an e-mail notification, and the study appears in My Inbox when you log in to the IRB system.

Important! Make sure the appropriate person is listed as the primary contact to receive the e-mail and see the study in My Inbox (along with the PI, who always receives these). By default, the person who created the study is the primary contact. See Changing the Primary Contact on page 8.

Checking the Status of Your Study

You can see a diagram showing the state of your study within the IRB review process by opening the study. For example:

!Status Diagram

You can easily open your study from one of the following lists (depending on its status):

- My Inbox
- IRB In-Review Studies
- IRB Active Studies
For instructions about opening your study from these lists, see Accessing a Study on page 9.

Changing the Primary Contact

The study's primary contact for receiving communications from the IRB can be changed at any time. For example, it may help to provide a contact person in addition to the PI if the PI does not check e-mail frequently.

Notes:
- To change the primary contact, you must be a member of the study team or the IRB coordinator assigned to the study.
- By default, the person who created the study in the system is the primary contact.
- The PI continues to receive notifications regardless of the primary contact assignment.

To change the primary contact:
1. Open the study by clicking the study's name. (For instructions about finding the study, see Accessing a Study on page 9.)
2. Click Assign Primary Contact from the My Current Actions list on the left.
   A new window opens.
3. Click Clear to remove the current contact.
4. Begin typing the name of the new contact.
   A list of matching names appears.
5. Select the correct name using the mouse or down arrow key.
6. Click OK.

Note: If the primary contact is also engaged in the research, make sure the list of team members within the study includes the person.
Accessing a Study

You may want to open a specific study to view or update its contents, submit it for review, review it, or take other actions on the study.

Note: Your access to a study is personalized based on your role in the system and the role you play in relation to the particular study. In addition, the actions you can take on a study are personalized.

To open a study, click its name when you find it in a list of studies.

To find a list that includes the study, try these suggestions:

Responding to a Request for Clarifications or Modifications

At any stage during the review process, the IRB may request clarifications to the study content. Similarly, the official IRB determination may be that the study requires changes before research can begin.

Both situations require the study staff to take similar actions. In either case, the PI and the study's primary contact receive an e-mail, and the study appears in My Inbox for each member of the study team.

To view the details of the request and respond with the changes:
1. From My Inbox, click the name of the study to open it.
2. Locate the details of the request, as described here:

   For clarification requested: In the Activity column under Clarification Requested, read the request details.

   !Activity Column

   If applicable, click the read more link to display the remaining text.

   For modifications required: Click the letter link near the top of the page on the right side. The letter contains the modification requirement details.

   !Letter

3. Edit the study to incorporate changes as needed. Any study team member can make the changes. For instructions, see Editing a Study on page 5.

   Notes:
   - In most cases, you can update all aspects of the study, including adding or removing attached documents.
   - For any requested revised documents (to be attached/uploaded with the submission):
     - Revise documents using Word Track Changes or some other method to highlight the revisions. Save the marked-up version to your desktop.
     - Generate a clean copy by accepting all changes and/or removing mark-up and also save the clean version to your desktop with a unique name.
     - Upload the clean copy to the revised submission where the system prompts you or where the original document was attached.
     - Attach the marked-up copy to the Submit Changes activity form as supplemental materials when you submit the changes.
   - If clarifications were requested during committee review, you cannot edit the study, and you see the View Study button instead. In that case, respond to the reviewer by commenting in the Submit Changes form, as described in the next step.
4. Click Submit Changes to return the study to the reviewers. Only the PI can Submit Changes. If a study member has made the changes, he/she needs to notify the PI that the changes need to be submitted.

   Notes:
   - The Submit Changes form gives you space to type a point-by-point response to the requests and to attach a file. However, any permanent study information should be incorporated into the study itself. Attach the marked-up copy of revised materials (e.g. recruitment materials, consent documents) to the activity form as supplemental materials when you submit the changes.
   - If clarifications were requested during committee review, you may be asked to make permanent changes to the study after the review is complete.

5. Click OK.

The study returns to the review process.

Checklist of Information to Attach

Be prepared to attach several files to your study. While editing the study, several forms provide places to attach related files. In some cases, a template file is provided, such as for the protocol.

When attaching each file, name it as you want it to appear on the IRB approval letter.

Attach the information listed below (if relevant to your study) to the location identified.

Protocol definition: (Basic Information page)

- Study protocol
- Complete sponsor protocol, if applicable
- HHS (Department of Health and Human Services) protocol, if applicable

Funding information: (Funding Sources page, with each source)

- Grant applications

Drug details: (Drugs page, with each drug, or on main Drugs page if not specific to one drug)

- Package insert
- Investigator brochure
- Verification of each IND number (one of these):
  - Sponsor protocol with the IND number
  - Communication from the FDA or sponsor with the IND number

Device details: (Devices page, with each device, or on main Devices page if not specific to one device)

- Product labeling/device instructions
- Investigator brochure
- Verification of each IDE or HDE number (one of these):
  - Sponsor protocol with the IDE / HDE number
  - Communication from the FDA or sponsor with the IDE / HDE number

Recruitment and consent details: (Consent Forms Recruitment Materials page)

- Attach all Consent documents (unless a waiver of informed consent is requested on the Consent Process page):
  - Consent forms
  - For non-documented consent (where signatures are not obtained), a script of the information provided orally or
- All material to be seen or heard by subjects, such as:
  - Advertisements, including printed, audio, and video
  - Recruitment materials and scripts
  - Foreign-language versions of materials for subjects (Note: these can be submitted after any requested revisions have been made during the
- online to the subjects review process.

All other relevant documents: (Data Collection Instruments and Supporting Documents page)
- Conflict of Interest Committee’s determination for each financial interest related to the research
- Debriefing Materials
- Completed checklist of meeting Department of Energy requirements
- Evaluation instruments and surveys
- Vulnerable Population checklist/s
