

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Remote Research Affiliate Agreement (No Home Employer)

- A Remote Research Affiliate (Remote RA) may be permitted to access certain electronic applications maintained by, or otherwise available to, UGA for the purpose of collaborating with UGA faculty and staff on research or other scholarly activities, which collaboration enables the performance of the UGA research or scholarly projects and other UGA functions.
- Participation as a Remote RA does not create an employment relationship with UGA. A Remote RA will receive no stipend or other payment from UGA (other than honoraria) for any activities as a Remote RA. A Remote RA is not entitled to participate in UGA benefit programs such as workers' compensation or health insurance offerings.
- A Remote RA must follow applicable UGA policies, procedures, and guidelines associated with the permitted access and collaboration to the same extent as UGA employees.
- If a Remote RA uses the resources of UGA Libraries, the Remote RA will not use these resources for commercial or monetary gain and may not use these resources to benefit or create profit for the company/business with which the Remote RA is affiliated.
- A Remote RA will maintain in confidence all information, data, and materials that UGA and/or the University of Georgia Research Foundation, Inc. (UGARF) are required to maintain in confidence through a contract, grant, or other agreement with a third party or through government regulation or by any other requirement.
 - Check here if a custom Data Use Agreement has been negotiated with UGA's Innovation Gateway Office and is included with this Remote Research Affiliate Agreement.*
- Additionally, until publication or other dissemination is agreed upon in writing by UGA and the Remote RA, a Remote RA will maintain in confidence all information, data, and materials obtained from or through UGA as a result of the collaboration.
- Absent a separate agreement with different terms, a Remote RA is considered part of University Personnel for the purpose of the UGA Intellectual Property Policy, and all terms of that policy apply to a Remote RA. All research and scholarly activities performed by a Remote RA as part of the collaboration with UGA are considered assigned efforts under the UGA Intellectual Property Policy.
 - Check here if a separate custom Intellectual Property Agreement has been negotiated with UGA's Innovation Gateway Office and is included with this Visiting Researcher/Scholar Agreement.*
- A Remote RA must maintain accurate and complete laboratory notebooks, data, and other electronic or written documentation that are appropriate given the nature of the RA's collaboration with UGA. A Remote RA does not personally own any such items and must turn over to UGA and/or UGARF all materials generated in performance of activities as a Remote RA, and all copies thereof, if requested.

After signatures are obtained below, the individual signing as Remote RA remains subject to additional review and processing. The individual's signature on this document is not a guarantee that Remote RA status will be conferred. RA status is effective only with the issuance of a UGAID.

Many federal agencies require specific disclosures in the Biographical Sketch, Other Support/Current and Pending Support and Facilities, Equipment, and Other Resources at the time of proposal and throughout the lifespan of active sponsored projects. The required disclosures vary by sponsor; however, several agencies require the disclosure of Postdoctoral scholars, students, or visiting scholars who are supported by a non-UGA entity regardless of the individual's involvement on the proposed or active project. To aid in identifying each agency's requirements for disclosure, please carefully review SPA's Pre and Post Award Disclosures: Other Support document found here.
